Hey, sweetheart...
I am so sorry about today...
I thought you were Stephen, whom I am not particularly enthused about
for his loss of loyalty and his loss of memory... He has tried everything to fuck me
over, as far as traveling with my wife!! He also just bursts into my fucking house like it's goddam Grand Central Station!!!
I'm truly sorry if I upset
you...
If you like, you can give me
some Morphine to see if my tongue and penis touch!!!
All my love...
J.

Thank you for reaching out. I was not upset by your initial response when I knocked on your door, as I knew you were upset with Stephen and thought I was him. However, I was upset that once you knew it was me you had security come escort me out of your house. I was only there to help you, to change your bandage, do your exercises and make sure you were ok. I knew you were not answering texts and thought we had set it up I would arrange with security when I would come over today. I understand it was a answering texts and thought we had set it up I would arrange with security when I would come over today. I understand it was a tough moment but it was a bit humiliating to be escorted out when I was just there to help you. Anyway, like i've said in the past, our relationship is mature enough to where we can be open and honest and move on. So, with that being said, what time shall I come over tomorrow? :)

5:30am!!!

I told Sean that I was not dressed and to clear the joint as I wasn't ready for company!!! And that Stephen had to go...!!!
Noon tomorrow??
