ELIZABETH MARZ,
having been first administered an oath, was examined and testified as follows:

EXAMINATION

BY MS. KLEIN:

Q So this proceeding about which -- during which you're about to give some testimony is called a deposition. The purpose of taking a deposition is to obtain facts and information relating to matters involved in this lawsuit.

This is a shorthand certified court reporter, and as you just had happen, you were put under oath. Do you understand what it means to be put under oath?

A Uh-huh.

Q Okay. So you're expected to give truthful, most complete answers that you can give here today. We don't want you to guess. I'd like you to give me your best present recollection of whatever I'm asking about.
Again, not a guess.

This deposition is taking place in my conference room. It's informal, but it has the same
